2018 PATRON OPPORTUNITIES

BALL for THE MALL

THURSDAY, APRIL 26, 2018
ON THE GROUNDS OF THE NATIONAL MALL

The Trust for the National Mall is pleased to invite you to join us for our BALL for THE MALL 2018 benefit gala. In 2017, we celebrated our tenth year partnering with the National Park Service by changing our signature annual event from a luncheon to an evening gala. And the response was tremendous!

The event welcomed over 750 patrons to join event honorees – businessman and patriotic philanthropist David Rubenstein and Hinrich Woebcken representing Volkswagen, Master of Ceremonies Wolf Blitzer, and presidential historian Douglas Brinkley to celebrate our partnership with the National Park Service. Thanks to the generosity of these supporters, the Trust can continue its work to create modern and resilient solutions that improve the visitor experience on the National Mall.

We hope you will join us on Thursday, April 26 for BALL for THE MALL 2018. As a Patron you will:

- Receive recognition as a partner in the effort to improve the National Mall.
- Participate in a prestigious event that attracts many of Washington’s most prominent leaders, philanthropists and public officials.
- Host guests for a unique experience right on the National Mall.
- Attend a reception with members of Congress, leaders from the National Park Service, U.S. Department of the Interior, public officials from the District of Columbia and surrounding jurisdictions, and the Washington-based diplomatic corps.
- Enjoy volunteer opportunities and other activities on the National Mall throughout the year.

The Trust for the National Mall stewards private support to design and deliver modern and resilient solutions that will improve the visitor experience and preserve the historic legacy of the National Mall. In partnership with the National Park Service, we have invested more than $22 million in private support and helped advocate for an additional $130 million in Federal Funds. With 36 million annual visits, the National Mall is one of the most visited parks in the world. Yet the visitor experience is compromised by the continuing challenges of aging infrastructure, increased visitation, and lack of amenities. The National Mall requires more than $840 million in deferred maintenance and needed upgrades, the highest figure of any national park.

BALL for THE MALL

THURSDAY, APRIL 26, 2018
ON THE GROUNDS OF THE NATIONAL MALL

A prestigious tented event to be held on the National Mall, the BALL for THE MALL 2018 will feature breathtaking views, distinguished speakers, seated dinner and dessert reception with dancing.

For the first time, the Trust will seek to do a brief report highlighting the progress against the National Mall Plan. In 2010, the National Park Service developed the plan as a practical, ambitious but achievable vision for a sustainable National Mall where visitors feel welcomed and proud of the space that symbolizes our nation. The Trust for the National Mall has worked closely with the National Park Service to identify and prioritize key projects to deliver against this plan.

SCHEDULE OF THE EVENING

5.30 PM	Congressional and Diplomatic Reception
6.30 PM	General Reception
7.30 PM	Dinner
9.15 PM	After-Party and Dessert Reception

In what we expect to become an annual publication issued on the day of the benefit event, the “State of the National Mall Report” will provide updates and emphasis on what has been achieved to preserve and transform the Mall – along with a clear assessment of the ongoing but yet unmet needs that can be addressed with public and private funding.

HOST COMMITTEE

The Host Committee provides essential leadership for a successful event and includes distinguished participants across a variety of industries. We are currently forming the BALL for THE MALL 2018 Host Committee. For more information about how to play a role in supporting this event, please contact Kevin Sturtevant (202.552.4407 | ksturtevant@nationalmall.org).
